Poiladelphia Academy.

SAMUEL MAGAW, D. D.
Rector of St Paul's church and formerly Vice-Provoft of the Univerfity of Pennfylvania,
AND
JAMES ABERCROMBIE, A.M.
One of the Affiftant Miniſters of Chriſt church and St. Peter's, INTEND TO OPEN,
On Tuesday the 15th of next month, (April)

An Academy,

CONSISTING OF

1. AN Engliſh School, in which will be taught Reading, Writing, Engliſh Grammar, Compoſition, Elocution, and Natural Hiſtory.

2d. A Mathematical School, in which will be taught Writing, Arithmetic, Mercantile Accounts, Geography and the uſe of the Globes, Geometry and Trigonometry, with their application to Menſuration, Surveying, Navigation, Nautical Aſtronomy, &c.—Alſo, the Principles of Mechanics, Algebra and Fluxions.

3d. A Claſſical School, in which will be taught the Latin and Greek Languages, in conjunction with Chronology, Civil Hiſtory, Rhetoric, and the Inſtitutes of Moral Science.

A well grounded conviction of the expediency of the foregoing plan, has been our principal inducement to undertake it. When it is conſidered that this populous and flouriſhing Metropolis contains only one Public Inſtitution on an extenſive plan, and that many of our youth are obliged to reſort to other States, to receive even a Grammar-School Education, the Seminary now propoſed, will, we truſt, be regarded as eminently uſeful.

Actuated by theſe conſiderations, many gentlemen, friends to Science, and to Literary Eſtabliſhments, have urged, with great warmth, the preſent undertaking, and excited the moſt flattering expectations of its ſucceſs.

Thus encouraged by the countenance and promiſed aid of liberal men, no leſs than by a firm perſuaſion that well-regulated Academies have a moſt important influence upon manners, habits, and principles; it will be our earneſt endeavor ſo to conduct this Seminary of Learning, as to ſubſerve the great Intereſts of Religion and Morality, to promote Decorum of Behaviour—Correctneſs of Taſte, Liberality of Sentiment, and every other attribute of an ingenuous mind, which, in connection with good principles, and ſound literature, conſtitute the diſtinguiſhed ornaments of the gentleman, and the ſcholar.

The building, engaged for this Academy, though affording excellent accommodation, will be relinquiſhed for a more central ſituation, if ſuch a change ſhould be found neceſſary.

A maſter of diſtinguiſhed abilities will be procured to conduct the Mathematical Department.

Perſons deſirous to be employed as TUTORS in this Seminary, are requeſted to apply, without delay, to either of the ſubſcribers, to whom alſo Parents wiſhing to ſend their children, will pleaſe to make application.

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,
WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9.

—"And he sat down by a well. Now the priest of Midian had seven daughters: and they came and drew water, and filled the troughs to water their father's flock. And the shepherds came and drove them away: but Moses stood up and helped them, and watered their flock."

IN the juvenile days of Moses, that prophet, having unfortunately interfered in a quarrel between an Egyptian and a Jew, went into voluntary exile. Provoked at the assassination of a subject, the reigning monarch sought to slay Moses, who fled from his wrath into the land of Midian. Here he took up his residence in the vicinity of a well, and led a sort of hermit's life, "unknowing and unknown." By a glance at the history of pastoral ages, it will be seen, that the task of drawing water, either for household purposes, or for the use of the fold, generally devolved upon women. The simplicity, the indolence, or the rudeness of the patriarchs, caused them to forget that the obvious destination of the softer sex was for lighter labour; and that men, as the natural guardians of females, should ever rescue their fair wards from ignominious thraldom. But the priest of Midian, with all his learning, was, it seems, clownish and inattentive in this respect, for he suffers his whole family of girls to "draw water, and fill the troughs to water his flocks." In those days, reservoirs and cisterns attracted almost as great crowds, as Bath in England, and Lebanon springs here have, in times more modern. Indeed wells were a kind of haunt; and at their margin were to be found pilgrims and patriarchs, shepherds and herdsmen, blushing beauties and clamorous boors, all eager to allay their own thirst, or that of the animals, lowing and bleating around. In such a promiscuous crowd, Grossness and Incivility would always mingle, indeed predominate, and not only delicate ears, but even graceful forms would sometimes be wounded. The daughters of the Egyptian clergyman did not repair to the well of Midian, without exposure to the attacks of brutality. Certain shepherds of the country, "fellows of the baser sort," in all probability, Midianitish democrats, influenced by the wonted churlishness of such characters, came and drove these unoffending females away. Perceiving this harshness, and, in a spirit of gallantry, resenting it, Moses quitted his seat and his meditations, and civilly helped the insulted maidens, and relieved them from the labour of watering their flocks. This is a pleasing instance of primeval politeness? and demonstrates that even in the simplest stages of society, the man of feeling and judgment will ever support the rights of woman.

The sex have a paramount claim on our protection, tenderness and good breeding. Years cannot cause my dim eyes to survey the fair carelessly, or with indifference. I can still feel the sentiment of the courtly DRYDEN.

"Old as I am, for ladies' love unfit,
"The power of beauty I remember yet"

Once, in the absurd misapprehension of youth, I thought the character of a woman hater worth imitating; and even attempted to hurl a female lance at the champions of the daughters of Eve. But time has taught me the impolicy and baseness of such a warfare. I have not only made a truce, but concluded a firm and lasting peace with the ladies. I pride myself that they still admit an old fellow to their toilets, and that they will not refuse a dropped fan, though presented to them by a grey headed gallant. If I hear the pleasing rustle of silk against my study stairs, I make shift to hide my crutch, and, at the expense of my gouty limbs, cheerfully resign my obsolete arm chair to the occupancy of the fair sex. I am a very Moses to resent any ill treatment they may receive; and did modern ladies watch and water sheep, like the seven shepherdesses of Midian, I am sure I should "right merrily" fill the bucket.

The gallantry of the attentive Moses was not unrequited. It procured him an invitation to the house of the clergyman, whose daughters had been thus protected by the shield of civility. The fruits of good breeding were the gratitude of a venerable priest, and the hand of Zipporah, his daughter.

Thus it may be learned by every young man, eager for a pleasant passage through life, that attention to women honours both the giver and receiver. Nothing is to be gained by rudeness to the sex. By complaisance to them much may be acquired. He who is universally decried by women, is rarely very popular in male society. Nature intended that the sexes should live in amity. Let the good understanding continue. If we treat our female friends with courtesy, with tenderness; if we listen to their voice with attention, bow at their approach, and sigh at their departure, we shall be liberally remunerated. Selfishness alone will dictate such politeness. Woman, naturally frank, generous and sensitive, will hasten to discharge the obligation. On him who is thus watchful to please her, she will smile with radiance, she will smooth his pillow, "sing, like Hotspur's consort the song that pleases" him, and "bind his aching head with flowers." THE LAY PREACHER.

The appointment of GOUVERNEUR MORRIS, Esq. as Senator of the United States, is alike grateful to the worshipper of Genius, and the advocates of ancient principles.—Such talents, quickened by his energy will, in this "exigent moment," be of primary use to his country.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, April 8.

Mr. Harper, from the Committee of Ways and Means, presented a bill to authorise the sale and conveyance of lands in certain cases, by the marshalls of the United States, and to confirm former sales—which was committed to a committee of the whole house.

The report of the Committee of Ways and Means, to whom was referred the amendments of the Senate to the bill for establishing a general stamp office, was taken up and agreed to—Whereupon,

Resolved, That this house do disagree to the 2d 3d, and 4th amendments, and ask a conference on the same.

Three managers were appointed for that purpose.

Mr. Harrison, from the committee to whom was referred the petition of a number of the ancient inhabitants of the Illinois country, made a report, recommending the agreement of the house to a bill therewith submitted, in addition to the act intituled an act for granting lands to the inhabitants and settlers of St. Vincents, in the Illinois country, in the N. W. Territory, and for confirming them in their possession—which was read a first and second time and committed to a committee of the whole house, and made the order of the day for to-morrow.

Mr. Harper said, he was instructed by the Committee of Ways and Means, to move that the house do come to the following resolution, viz.

Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means have leave to prepare and report a bill or bills, for authorising the commissioners under the act to provide for the valuation of lands or dwelling houses, and the enumeration of slaves within the United States, in those states whereof the valuations have not yet been compleated and returned, to revise, vary and adjust the valuation of unseated lands, in the several assessment districts and sub-divisions, within their respective states; so as that the relative valuations of different tracts of such lands in the same sub-division, be not varied or affected.

And also for enabling the surveyors of the revenue under the said act, to add to the lists of valuations within their districts respectively, all such lands or dwelling houses therein, as shall from time to time appear to have been omitted, by the assessors or otherwise, in receiving, making or returning such lists.

And also for authorising the said surveyors to erase from the said lists, all lands and dwelling houses wherefrom the persons interested in the said lists respectively shall have been ejected in due course of law, or upon the title whereto there shall have been a decision in due course of law against such person.

The resolution was agreed to, and Mr. Harper accordingly brought in a bill to provide for equalizing the valuation of unseated lands—which was read a first and second time, and committed for to-morrow.

Mr. D. Foster from the Committee of Claims, to whom was referred the petition of Josiah Jones, who asked for a pension, made a report, that the prayer of the petitioner ought not to be granted, and that he have leave to withdraw his papers.

The House concurred.

A message was received from the Senate, notifying that they have agreed to the conference requested by this House.

A message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. Shaw, his secretary, informing the House, that the President did, on the 5th inst. approve and sign the following acts, viz.

An act to allow a drawback of duties on goods exported to New Orleans, and therein to amend the act entituled an act to regulate the collection of duties on imports and tonnage—and an act to discharge Robert Sturgeon from his imprisonment.

The house resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the bill to authorise the President of the United States to accept for the United States, a cession of jurisdiction of territory, lying west of Pennsylvania, commonly called the Western Reserve of Connecticut—Mr. Morris in the chair when

Mr. Cooper moved to amend the bill by striking out that part which goes to conciliate and adjust the right of Pennsylvania to some of the land in question—and thereby to defeat the bill.

Messrs. Marshall and Gallatin opposed this motion, which was negatived—ayes 25.

Mr. Elmendorf then moved to strike out that part of the first section which provides for the acceptance of the cession of a jurisdiction of soil by the United States from the State of Connecticut—and to amend the bill so as to accept the cession of jurisdiction only. After some debate Mr. Gallatin called for a division of the question.

Mr. Marshall then entered into a lengthy discussion in favour of the bill, and against striking out.

The committee then rose, and the house adjourned.

Extract of a letter from St. Bartholomews, dated February 16, to a gentleman in this town.

"The admission of French Planters who have property at Martinique, but were absent for some time, becomes very difficult since the arrival of Victor Hugues at Cayenne. Yesterday we received here the certain tidings that this bold and enterprizing man has taken possession of Demarara; and it is apprehended that he wont stop there, but that he is likely to carry his views on some other point, having a considerable force under his command."

NEW-YORK, April 8.

The captain of the sloop Gen. Greene, arrived here last evening in 13 days from Bermuda, informs us that a French schooner on her passage from Guadaloupe to France arrived there 2 days before he sailed, having on board the French general Lavaux—She was captured by the British privateer ship Experiment, belonging to that port.

PROPOSALS
By WILLIAM COBBETT,

For importing the following periodical publications:

1. The British Critick;
2. The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine;
3. The Gentleman's Magazine;
4. Le Mercure Britanique, or The British Mercury.

THE British Critick is a regular Review of all the works published in Great Britain; it is conducted with great impartiality and ability, and of the numerous publications of the kind which do now appear, and which have appeared in Great Britain; it is universally allowed to be the best.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine is as its title seems to indicate, rather more confined, as to the nature of its subjects, but it certainly is not less calculated for extensive utility. This work is divided into four departments: 1 Original Criticism—2 A Review of the other Reviews—3 Occasional Essays, in prose and verse—and 4th, A Monthly Summary of History and Politics. Every six months it has a supplement, containing a review of foreign works, not forgetting those of America. The Anti-Jacobin dwells less on subjects which are merely literary and scientific, than on those which have a more immediate influence on society. With a bold and masterly hand, it corrects the blunderings of error, traces the intricate windings of misrepresentation, and strips off the mask of hypocrisy. The avowed champion of the church and the state, it spares the enemies of neither, whether open or secret; and, scorning the pusillanimous defensive, upon which the friends of truth have too long acted, it carries on a continual and vigorous offensive warfare against anarchy, immorality, and irreligion, and thus establishes by its uniform conduct, its right to the title it has assumed.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Gentleman's Magazine, a work stamped with the approbation of three score years, consists chiefly of communications from antiquaries and cultivators, and of original essays, in verse and prose written by the most learned and ingenious men in the kingdom, and embracing by turns, almost every subject interesting to man. The miscellaneous part of the work is followed by a selection of authentick foreign and domestick intelligence, including official reports, state-papers, and an abstract of the proceedings in parliament; next comes a very copious obituary, being not merely a list of deaths, but a valuable series of biography; to which is added, a Meteorological Diary and Table, a Bill of Mortality for London and its environs, a table of the average prices of corn, and of the stocks, for every day in the month. So that this work must ever be an entertaining and useful companion, not only to those who are of the learned professions, commonly so called, but to the merchant, the farmer, and, in short, to every man, whatever may be the subject of his study, or the object of his pursuit.

[Price 40 Cents.]

Le Mercure Britannique, or, British Mercury; by Monsieur Mallet Du Pan.—This work, of which one number is published every fortnight, in French and in English, commenced in August 1798, and is continued with increasing spirit and celebrity. It is both historical and critical; it contains a summary, and is the repository, of all the important events, established facts and public instruments, which relate to the present æra; it investigates points of fact, of politics, and national rights; it extends its view over all the nations of Europe, examines the conduct and discloses the motives of their respective courts; it is in short a brief and comprehensive history of the times, equally remarkable for the elegance of its style, the profundity of its remarks, and the soundness of its principles.

[Price 50 Cents.]

These four works comprise every thing useful in the periodical way. Gentlemen may subscribe for all, or for either, of them. The first order is intended to be sent off on the 1st of May next; the successive numbers will be received at New York in two months upon an average after, their publication in London; so that those which are subscribed for on or before the 1st of May, will be received in September; after which they will with very little irregularity, come to hand once a month, the importer having made such arrangements as cannot fail of securing punctuality on the part of his correspondents.

☞ Subscriptions will be received from any part of America, by J. W. FENNO, Philadelphia. No advance is required. The prices are but four cents a number higher than in London.

*Grief and joy are ſubject to her will:—
The ſlowing ſtreams ſtand ſtill and wonder.
By potent art ſhe ſtops the ſtars and drives them frighted back. Trees take the alarm, and ſcampering quit the hills; whilſt the unwieldy earth labouring, yawning, bellowing with fear, ſends forth her nightly ghoſts.*

MUCH diſturbance to the order of nature has, in all ages, been aſcribed to the magic agency of women. To account for ſuch an imputation, without acknowledging the fact, appears ſomewhat difficult. Whether, from their known influence over the moral world, that over the natural has, by analogical deduction, been derived; whether, from their acknowledged ability to excite commotions among the affections and paſſions of the heart, it has been concluded that they poſſeſs like powers over the elements of the natural creation, admits of doubt. Certain it is, that, from the earlieſt times, there has been a generation of wonder-working females, whoſe pretentions to occult ſcience and ſupernatural power have procured them the notice, the admiration and the MONEY of the credulous multitude.

I have been led to theſe general remarks, by an unaccountable infatuation or enchantment which appears to be practiſed upon the inhabitants of this city, and, particularly, upon unmarried ladies, by one of theſe female magicians, who is ſaid to have ſet up her cortinam, and opened a commerce with other worlds, in a certain magic cell in Race ſtreet.

I am unable to aſcertain the particular mode in which ſhe operates to produce in the mind that derangement of the rational faculties, that inſatiable curioſity, and that wiſtful anxiety to pry into the ſecrets of futurity, by means of which ſhe nightly draws to her unhallowed myſteries, ſuch multitudes of deluded mortals. It is believed, that what, to vulgar eyes, appears a ſimple, harmleſs pack of cards, is nothing leſs than the oppoſeleſs caduceus of Mercury; by the latent energies of which ſhe ſummons, at her will, a congregated throng of ſpectres, ſprights, oſtlers, ladies, waiting-maids and ſtateſmen, who, with mingled hope and fear, hang on her lips to learn the awards of Fate. She, Minos like, declares their lots:

——— "Around her lie
Spells, philters, globes and ſpheres of palmiſtry;
A ſigil in one hand the gipſy bears,
In th' other, a prophetic ſieve and ſhears."

Thus equipped, wiſe and myſterious in her aſpect as the ſagacious owl, and big with future deſtiny, as bat by wanton boys blown up, ſhe burſts with ſwelling divination, and, to the aſtoniſhed crowd, diſcloſes ———

What? That thoſe who marry will have huſbands, and thoſe who marry not, by Fate's unalterable decrees, muſt live old maids, or elſe no maids at all. Such and ſo marvelous is her matchleſs ſkill!

A ſtill ſtronger proof of ſupernatural agency, is the mighty charm, by which ſhe blunts the edge of ſenſibility and holds here female audience, unabaſhed, to hear what ſhe relates. Strange as it muſt ſeem! the ears of the modeſt, virtuous and chaſte, which, in other circumſtances, would ſooner be ſtopped forever than liſten to the moſt remote alluſion of an improper nature, here become pleaſed with unchaſte and indecent inſinuations, and even patient of downright obſcenity. Ladies, who in the free, unbiaſſed exerciſe of their rational faculties, would rather die like Lucretia, than live ſuſpected of diſhonor, will here tamely ſubmit to hear their virtue queſtioned, in preſence of the multitude, and ſmile at the imputation or prediction of thoſe "deeds of darkneſs," which modeſty will not name and charity refuſes to credit. "'Tis pitiful, 'tis wonderous pitiful" to behold in what manner the graces of modeſty and the charms of beauty are here out-charmed, infatuated, and proſtituted at the ſhrine of all-potent magic.

All will allow that great and numerous evils, pernicious to private peace and public manners, neceſſarily flow from diſorders like theſe. The perſons themſelves will bear me witneſs, that, when once they have ſo far indulged their curioſity as to make the experiment, however reſolutely they may have fortified their minds againſt the belief of any miraculous ſkill in this pretended expounder of the decrees of Heaven, there has ſtill remained ſome traces of uncertainty. Some trifling circumſtance, to them unaccountable, ſome ambiguous, unmeaning hint, which their own knowledge of facts, aſſiſted by their own invention, could alone appropriate to any actual event, makes room for doubt, at leaſt, if not credulity, to keep poſſeſſion of the mind. This alone is ſufficient to diſturb the imagination, to awaken unreaſonable apprehenſions or falſe grounded ſuſpicions, to unſettle the ſerenity of the temper, and to ſhake that calm and ſteady reliance which rational people ſhould more confidently repoſe in their God than in the tricks of a profeſſed conjurer.

I would not be thus ſerious, upon a ludicrous ſubject, were it not, unfortunately, true, that many, in honeſt ſimplicity, have gone ſo far as, in effect, to believe, that an ignorant, ſilly woman has been able to rend the veil which the God of nature had kindly drawn between us and futurity, and, by dint of frivolous rites and unmeaning ceremonies, to lay open to the view of mortals, thoſe ſecrets which HE had wiſely intended, forever, to have conceal'd from their ſight. Such ideas, and the conduct which reſults from them, are not merely frivolous and ridiculous; they are abſolutely criminal and impious.

Such is the diſorder: but what ſhall be the remedy? Reaſoning cannot effect it: for, though reaſon is a "goodly pearl," it has no beauty or value in the ſight of thoſe who direct their eyes above it, into the regions of myſtery and wonder; and even the wholeſome precepts of morality, ſeen through theſe miſts of ignorant credulity, appear to loſe their excellence and luſtre.

In a caſe thus difficult, it is the part of a prudent phyſician to proceed with caution. I ſhall, therefore, adopt no final meaſures 'till farther inveſtigation ſhall have enabled me to preſcribe with greater confidence of ſucceſs. In the mean time, I would earneſtly entreat every lady, whoſe diſcretion has preſerved to her the conſciouſneſs of ſpotleſs manners, to abſtain entirely from viſiting this infectious place, and to reſiſt, with fortitude, every beginning of ſo idle and miſchievous a curioſity. Do not, my fair friends, expoſe your delicacy to the ſcrutiny and looſe remarks of the unknown and promiſcuous multitudes, who nightly convene there, for other purpoſes than thoſe of conſulting the fortune teller. Leave it to thoſe who have ſufficient cauſe to apprehend what a future "day may bring forth," to calm their apprehenſions, to prove their virtue or prepare againſt diſgrace, by the aſſiſtance of oracular reſponſes. "Good name, in women, is the immediate jewel of their ſouls," and ſince for ſome, it requires more than mortal teſtimony to gain belief, it is but reaſonable that ſuch ſhould be indulged with an opportunity of having their virtue atteſted by authority which cannot be doubted. It is, therefore, my advice, that for the preſent, no obſtruction be thrown in the way of thoſe who are diſpoſed to viſit the fortune teller, and that it be taken for granted, that, were it proper, they could give convincing proof of the propriety and neceſſity of the meaſure.

It is reported, that there are certain of the great council of our nation, whom it delighteth to conſult the intereſts of their country, in this repoſitory of occult ſcience; and, as I would, by no means, be inſtrumental in depriving government of any neceſſary or uſeful aid, I would recommend, that every ſuch lady as before alluded to, ſhould have the privilege of introducing one member of Congreſs.

I would likewiſe requeſt the police of the city, ſince they think it proper that a public office of this kind ſhould be kept open for the benefit of the citizens, that they would increaſe the notoriety of it, and cauſe its moral and political tendency to be more fully underſtood, by ordering the following inſcription to be placed over the door.

A CORRECT OUTLINE.

I am a fellow of the ſtrangeſt mind in the world; I delight in maſques and revels, ſometimes altogether. I am good at theſe kickſhaws as any man in Illyria. I am excellent in a galliard, and, faith, I can cut a caper. I can go to church in a minuet, and come home in a coranto. My very walk is a jig.

Robeſpierre and The People.

An intelligent and well informed French gentleman lately in this city, ſpeaking of that bloody tyrant Robeſpierre and having ſaid, "That he was not a man of ability. That he was no orator, a very ungraceful ſpeaker, extremely ugly in his perſon, and a poor timid creature," was aſked how it was poſſible that a man ſuch as he had deſcribed could for a moment, much leſs for a length of time govern ſo great, ſo intelligent a nation as the French; rule with an abſolute ſway ſuch a body as the national convention, and diſpoſe as he did of the lives and fortunes of the French people as his caprice dictated? anſwered, the reaſon is plain. He pronounced the words The people better than any man in France, and ſo ſenſible was he of their effect, that in a diſcourſe of fifteen minute he would uſe the words forty times."

Thus while that inhuman and bloody monſter was ſending this ſame people by ſcores from day to day to the guillotines, he by the mere uſe of the magic words the people, and by profeſſing great regard for their rights and liberties, made them believe he was their only friend and protector.

It is confidently believed that a very great majority of our excluſive patriots, our thorough going democrats and jacobins uſe the words here with preciſely the ſame intention and with full as much real regard for thoſe rights as Robeſpierre.

Brig Abigail, Hitchins, Portſmouth
Maria, Burton, Charleſton.

On the 25th March, in lat. 21 00 N. long. 60, 40. fell in with and was engaged by a low ſchooner privateer of 14 guns, under French colours, with the bloody flag additional. The battle continued the whole of the 25th: night then came on, and at dawn of day (26th) it was again renewed, but with ſome what more caution, as the reſpectful diſtance they kept ſufficiently teſtified. The enemy appeared diſſatisfied with the treatment they received; however, Judging a ſuſpenſion of hoſtilities would relieve the fatigue and trouble they had undergone, choſe to remain quiet the whole of the night of the 26th. Rouſed from ther lethargy, on the 27th the Fame was again attacked and again as gallantly defended by an experienced and brave captain and crew, with the aſſiſtance of ſeveral gentlemen paſſengers, who throughout the whole of the engagement acquitted themſelves honourably, and behaved like men.—The privateer men finding themſelelves completely foiled in all their manœuvres, either to board or to diſable, eventually hauled down the bloody flag, and ſneaked off, leaving the Americans as conquerors.

A NEW ADVERTISEMENT.

To Merchants, Store-keepers and Tradeſmen in general, &c.

GENTLEMEN,

I FEEL peculiar pleaſure in ſtating, that you have ſo generouſly and generally come forward and ſubſcribed for my work, that (notwithſtanding all proviſoes heretofore made by me) the coins and monies of account of the principal maritime trading places in Ruſſia, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Pruſſia, Poland, Germany, Holland, Flanders, Spain, Portugal, Italy, in ſeveral of the windward and leeward Weſt India Iſlands, and many ports in the Eaſt Indies—the whole to be reduced to dollars and cents; and the beſt mode of computing the exchange with thoſe places explained; alſo, a large ſheet table of calculations at compound intereſt at 6 per cent. the tables uſed in banks for the determination of the value of gold: the intereſt of each month from one to twelve months, on every dollar (without exception) from one to two thouſand; and a table of all the poſt towns in the United States; beſides much other general uſeful information, ſhall poſitively be added to the work, entitled

ROWLETT'S
Tables of Diſcount or Intereſt,
On every dollar (without exception)

From one to two thouſand; thence on every ten, fifty, and five hundred, to five thouſand, from one day to ſixty-four days inclusive, at ſix per cent. with notes for 5, 7 and 8 per cent, &c. &c. &c.

The work is dedicated, by permiſſion, to the Preſident and Directors of the Bank of North America, and received in the firſt twelve days the patronage of JOHN ADAMS, Preſident of the United States; of THOMAS JEFFERSON, Vice Preſident of the United States and Preſident of the Senate; of two-thirds of the Senators and Members of the Houſe of Repreſentatives of the United States; and of the Preſidents and Directors of the different Banks unanimouſly, &c.—a liſt of the whole is printed and attached to the propoſals.

It is evident that the work will be no trumpery catch-penny-thing; for I do aſſure the public, that the price of it is reduced very near one-half, according to the uſual rate at which books ſell; and it is my full determination to render it, in point of SUBJECT MATTER, a valuable acquiſition.

With reſpect to the accuracy of the Tables, too much cannot be ſaid, and I pledge myſelf that a PREMIUM of not leſs than ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS ſhall be offered to the firſt perſon who ſhall inform me of a ſingle error of one cent, according to the principle acted upon.

To do away all doubts with reſpect to the expences of the undertaking, I do moſt ſolemnly declare that they will amount to very near FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS, and perhaps more, independent of any remuneratiou for my own trouble in the arduous buſineſs, and the great expence already incurred for ſpecimens, propoſals, advertiſements, hand-bills, &c. &c.

I do therefore truſt with confidence, that gentlemen will continue to come forward with that public ſpirit and generoſity which characterize the nation, and ſupport the work by ſubſcribing to it without heſitation: otherwiſe it cannot be publiſhed, and I muſt ſit down to reflect upon a CONSIDERABLE LOSS.

And am, with profound reſpect,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient humble ſervant,
JOHN ROWLETT,
Accomptant, Bank North America.

Poſtſcript.—Gentlemen are reſpectfully invited to ſee Specimens of the Tables, &c. exhibited at the City-tavern, Hardy's Hotel, Francis's Hotel, the Indian Queen, Dudwoody's tavern, the Franklin Head and at the George; and pleaſe be referred to the other advertiſements which appear every day in ſome one of the newſpapers.

Subſcribers are to pay nothing until the book is delivered rigorouſly conformable to all ſtipulations.
